

Referencing the Use of AI Tools in Publications

You are required to not only mention but also document all usages of artificial intelligence tools that helped you to produce

- texts,
- thoughts,
- images,
- visualizations,
- data, and
- code

in your research. Thus, we recommend that you follow the recommended practice of writing a lab book when conducting your research at the MCL lab and later sharing all those parts of the prompts that you used to create your paper when submitting it along with the supplementary material accompanying your paper.
